Exporting Aluminium globally

Capral Aluminium is one of Australia's leading providers of Aluminium product and associated services. We work with key customers across a range of industries to deliver solutions - using our expansive product range and services capability.

The Capral Aluminium team have been involved in the export of Aluminium sheet, plate and extrusions for over 25 years. We have exported to countries all over Asia, the Middle East, the UK and even the Pacific.

Setting the benchmark in export, we have established a well recognised reputation for quality and service that now encompasses a broad range of industries. We are able to supply a complete package service, from materials, router cutting to packing and supply chain management - virtually anywhere in the world.

We are a leading supplier of router cutting and marking solutions, flat packed and delivered to customers internationally. Working closely with our customers we pioneered profile cutting of aluminium sheet and plate for the marine industry - utilising CNC profile cutting machines.

Benefits of the Capral Aluminium Service

- Our team can assist with material optimisation through effective nesting of cut parts, maximising yield and minimising waste.
- Utilising our CNC router machines we can deliver precut marine kits of various sizes ready for assembly.
- Goods are securely packed into 40ft containers, CIF to any designated port. We can package and deliver the materials to suit the customers specific requirements.
- We export to customers globally who build ferries, military craft, catamarans, pleasure yachts and fishing vessels. Vessels range in size from 4m - 100m in length, the concept is the same.
- Customers are able to take advantage of the benefits of dealing with Capral Aluminium and our established export capability. Our philosophy is that wherever a customer is operating they should feel like the Capral Aluminium one stop shop is operating right next door.
