

Capral and Alumex: A Partnership Built on Quality and Innovation

13th February 2025

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Capral Aluminium, Australia's largest manufacturer and distributor of aluminium products, has entered into a strategic partnership with Alumex, Sri Lanka's leading aluminium manufacturer. This collaboration marks a significant milestone for both companies, as it combines Capral's industry-leading window and door systems with Alumex's expertise in providing high-quality architectural aluminium solutions.

Founded in 1986, Alumex is a trusted provider of advanced aluminium systems for the country's residential, commercial, and industrial markets. Alumex's dedication to delivering quality solutions has earned it widespread recognition and a growing presence across the South Asian region.

The company offers a comprehensive range of architectural and industrial aluminium profiles, serving architects, fabricators, and homeowners. Alumex places a strong emphasis on sustainable practices, investing in state-of-the-art technology and recycling initiatives to reduce its environmental footprint.

At the core of this partnership is Alumex's access to Capral's Urban Plus range of high-end residential window and door systems. The Urban Plus range is well-known for its robust, high-performance designs that comply with stringent Australian standards for structural integrity, energy efficiency, and weather resistance.

These systems have been rigorously tested in Australia's diverse and often harsh environmental conditions, ensuring durability and reliability across a range of climates.

By integrating Capral's Urban Plus range into its product offerings, Alumex will be able to provide its customers with a tested residential window systems that meets stringent international standards. This is a significant step forward for Alumex, allowing the company to expand its product portfolio and offer enhanced value to the Sri Lankan market.

As part of the arrangement capral will provide comprehensive technical guidance, training, and ongoing support to ensure the successful implementation of Capral's Urban Plus systems.

Capral's technical experts are working closely with Alumex's fabrication teams to ensure they are well-versed in the nuances of installing and maintaining Urban Plus products. This hands-on collaboration ensures that Alumex can deliver the same level of quality and performance that Capral's Australian customers have come to expect.

Both Capral and Alumex are optimistic about the future of their partnership. With Capral's cutting-edge products and technical expertise, combined with Alumex's local market knowledge and manufacturing capabilities, the collaboration is poised for continued growth and success.

"We are excited to strengthen our partnership with Alumex and bring our trusted Urban Plus range to new markets," said Brendan Poole, Capral's State Manager for Building Systems, Queensland "Our shared commitment to quality and innovation will undoubtedly lead to greater opportunities for both companies."

Alumex has also expressed enthusiasm about the partnership's potential, highlighting the value of Capral's support in elevating its product offerings. The company looks forward to continuing its collaboration with Capral to bring superior aluminium solutions to its customers. As the partnership grows, both companies remain committed to delivering exceptional products and services that meet the evolving needs of their customers.
